Eulogy of Yucabeth Anyango Kaudo

Birth and Family Background

The late Mama Yucabeth Anyango Kaudo was born in 1962 in Kajimo, Kanam A, to the late Ambrose Opere and the late Conslata Odongo Opere.

She was lovingly raised in a large and closely knit family, and her other mother was the late Mama Susana Awino. Among the nine children—four girls and five boys—she was the third born and the first daughter, a place that quietly shaped her into a caring, responsible, and dependable pillar within the family. Raised in a deeply Catholic home, Mama Yucabeth embraced the faith handed down to her by her parents with devotion and humility. The values of prayer, compassion, respect, and service remained firmly rooted in her heart throughout her life and were evident in the way she related with her family, the Church, and the wider community.

She shared a special bond with her siblings: George Oimbo, the late Johnson Boo, the late Mary Atieno, the late Pamela Auma, Philip Opere, the late Tom Odhiambo, Christine Akinyi, and Ambrose Opere. She was also connected in love to her extended siblings: the late Chrispin Otieno, the late Jack Simbe, Reggy Opiyo, the late Benard Okiko, Grace Akongo, Margaret Opere, the late Maurice Odero, and the late Matabel Aloo.

Her family circle was further enriched by her sisters-in-law: Agnes Oimbo, Rose Awuor, Eunice Akinyi, Millicent Atieno, Phiona Adhiambo, Catherine Achola, the late Rael Adhiambo, the late Elizabeth Opiyo, the late Benter Adhiambo, and Jane Odero. She treasured her nieces Irene, Neema, Lucy, Anne, Robina, Florence, Janice, Sheryl, Val Idah, Conslata, Mercy, Lilian, Jane, Emma, Syprose, Tinah, and Dorothy, and her nephews Chrispin Onguru, Roney, Rayan Gigs, Joe Biden, Johnson Junior, Erick Goga, Ambrose Simbe, Ambrose Okiko, Chrispin Okiko, Ben, Patrick, Fredrick, Alfred, and John, among many others.

Education Background

The late Mama Yucabeth began her educational journey at Rabuor Koguta Primary School. From an early age, she displayed remarkable determination, resilience, and a deep desire to learn. At a time when access to education, especially for girls, was often hindered by social and economic challenges, she courageously embraced schooling and remained steadfast in her pursuit of knowledge. Her commitment to education became evident in childhood and would continue to shape the strength of character for which she was later known.

She later transferred to Mulaha Primary School in the then Siaya District, now Siaya County, where she lived under the care and guidance of her brother, Reggy Opiyo. The support and encouragement she received there further nurtured her academic aspirations and strengthened her resolve to succeed.

Upon completing her Certificate of Primary Education, she joined Magare Girls Secondary School for her secondary education. This opportunity was made possible through the support of her brother, George Oimbo, who recognized her potential and encouraged her to continue with her studies in a school where her uncle, Ben Ounda, worked. Her dedication to academics, discipline, and willingness to sacrifice for a better future reflected a young woman who understood the value of education long before many of her peers did. In an era when many girls were unable to continue their studies, she chose the path of perseverance and purpose. Her educational journey remains a testimony to courage, vision, and the quiet strength of a girl who dared to pursue a dream that many around her could not pursue.

Marriage and Family Life

When the late Mama Yucabeth Anyango met the love of her life, Joseph Kaudo, in Kamae Village, Rakwaro Sublocation, little did either family know the beautiful journey that God had prepared for them. Her journey to the homestead of the late Pius Misor Okundi and the late mama Magdalena Odhiambo was no coincidence; it was, indeed, part of God's divine plan. As a daughter-in-law, wife, mother, grandmother, and friend, she lived a life rooted in faith, love, humility, and hope. Raised within the strong foundation of the Roman Catholic faith, she carried that faith into her home, nurturing a family that found strength, comfort, and joy in God's grace.

She was blessed with a large and loving family, raising eight children—five sons and three daughters: Maureen Akoth (Oluti Comp School), Steve Misor (BloomBells Charity), Vincent Otieno (USA), Isdore Ouma (Nairobi), Emmaculate Adhiambo (Bliss Medical Centre, Siaya), Basil Okoth (Tropical Biology Association), Philip Onyango (The University of Nairobi), and Meldon Ketty (SamaSource Kenya). She was also a mother to Nancy Akinyi, Victoria Adhiambo, Joy Atieno, Paul Anan, and Tonny.

Yucabeth Anyango Kaudo

She was a cherished mother-in-law to Donah Misor (St. Mary Goretti Mawego), Beatrice Otieno (USA), Leshor Ouma (Nairobi), Lilian Okoth (Ireland), and Billis Misor, and a loving grandmother to Candy Maggy, Bethany Hailey, Leon Joseph, Tevan Wilson, Britney Akinyi, Jabari Amari, Frances Elveanor, Vaughn Otieno, Liana, Eleanor Nicolante, Laurel, and Nina.

She was also a beloved sister-in-law to Akelo Misor (Sec Gen KUPPET), Rev Christopher Misor (Makueni). Others were James Abott, Moses Alaka, Caleb Alaka, Isaiah Alaka, Bathlomew Kodi, Fredrick Were, Lucas Oywer, Steve Okundi, George Otieno, among many others. She was a mother-in-law to Vincent Adede (Kisumu) and Eddymavin Otieno (Nairobi). Above all, her greatest legacy was not only the family she raised, but the love she gave, the faith she lived, and the warmth she left in the hearts of those who knew her. Her presence brought comfort, her kindness spoke quietly, and her love will remain a cherished part of the family forever.

Her co-wives were Rose Akelo, and Beatrice Owuor. Others were Regina Owino, Pamela Abot, Joyce Opiyo, Linet Odhiambo, Idah Onyango, Esther Otieno, Jenipher Wanga, Eunice Kodi, Mary Okoth, Verah Okundi, among others. Her aunties included Roseline Amuom, Marcela Ochelle, Rosa Owuoth, Hellen Amuom, Juliana Ochele, Mary Otieno and Jane Okelo. She was a Nyawana to Dorothy and Samuel Orimba Benjamin, Lukio and mama Elizabeth India, Elly and Risper Kisera, Wilson and Isdora Adede, Charles and Rose Atira, and Florence and Wickliffe Ochieng'.

Career and Work Life

Mama Yucabeth had an illustrious career in education. After joining Kitale Diocese for specialised training in Early Year Education, she embarked on teaching and guiding children at Miyuga Primary School. For 33 uninterrupted years, she taught at Miyuga Primary school, changing the fortunes of children in the locality and transforming their thinking. Today, as she rests, she can be remembered with pride for having contributed immensely to the wellbeing of a society she dearly cherished. To say that her classes produced a generation of teachers, engineers, doctors, lawyers, and self-employed professionals would not be an understatement. As a teacher, she was proud to have her children in her classroom and cherished the rare opportunity to shape young lives. Her whole life resonated around this school, allowing her to blend closely with people of diverse backgrounds and work with close to eight head teachers during her career. During this time, she attended trainings, workshops, and seminars related to her work, making her classroom engagement not only fulfilling but also meaningful and impactful.

Christian Life

Mum was a devout Roman Catholic faithful who never shied away from expressing her faith. From birth to death, she remained steadfast in her faith, always encouraging her children to remain committed to the calling of God. She was a member of the Legion, an organization within the Roman Catholic Church that was consistent in prayer and devotion. She also served as a member of the parish council at St. Francis of Assisi Mawego Parish, having been nominated for that position by Miyuga Catholic Centre. The late Mama Yucabeth played several roles in the Church, including serving as the secretary of Miyuga Centre for a long time. She was also a member of the parish choir, following her love and passion for dancing and singing. Mum spent much of her time in prayer, especially praying for her children. Every evening after supper, she would pray for them and remind them that everything good that came their way was a result of the favour and grace of God. She therefore constantly reminded them never to forget God in their lives. Her faith was not merely something she professed; it was a way of life, a source of strength, and a legacy she leaves behind.

Community Service

Mum served at different levels, founding and supporting many groups and organisations, including Miyuga Women Group, founding member of Together We Succeed, founding member of Kalando Silk Self Help Group, Nyiuma Self Help Group, among others. Her passion was to ensure self-empowerment and to see the people she associated with become self-reliant. She also served on the committee as a member of Miriu Level 4 Hospital for many years, engaging in community health programmes and supporting initiatives aimed at community empowerment. She loved unity, preached unity, and insisted that it was the only way of ensuring a promising society. Her life of service reflected a woman who believed that the strength of a community lies in people standing together and lifting one another.

Personal Qualities

Mum loved unity, cooperation, and collaboration. She was a teacher who taught with passion, a woman who remained optimistic and caring, and a faithful servant who loved prayer. Her warmth, humility, generosity, and ability to bring people together made her a cherished presence wherever she went.

Illness and Death

Mum enjoyed good health until February 14, 2022, when, on her way from Kanam, she developed a fever and was rushed to Kandiege Dispensary for medical attention. She was diagnosed with high blood sugar and referred to Homa Bay Referral Hospital, where she was diagnosed with diabetes. She was admitted for approximately two weeks and was later placed on regular diabetes clinic follow-ups under the care of Dr. Abwao. In December 2022, she underwent thyroid surgery at Nyangena Hospital. The procedure was successfully performed by Dr. Ontomu. In August 2025, Mum experienced a drastic reduction in body weight, prompting a series of extensive medical tests, which initially did not yield any conclusive results. She later developed stomach complications that were initially diagnosed as ulcers. However, the complications persisted, prompting further investigations at Homa Bay Referral Hospital. A CT scan was conducted and revealed a tumour in her stomach. She was advised to consult a gastroenterologist, a surgeon, or an oncologist.

This recommendation marked the beginning of a long and painful journey of diagnosis and cancer treatment. After undergoing several biopsies and medical tests at Avenue Hospital Nairobi, Kenyatta University Referral Hospital, and Nairobi South Hospital, Mum was diagnosed with gastroesophageal adenocarcinoma. Under the care of her specialist oncologist, Dr. Primus Ochieng, she was admitted to Kenyatta National Hospital, where she underwent biliary drainage and stenting. She later began chemotherapy and successfully completed her final chemotherapy session on June 26, 2026. She was in good spirits and looking forward to coming back home. However, following the final chemotherapy session, she developed further complications, including low blood sugar, fever, and low blood levels. On July 15, 2026, the doctor recommended that she be placed under palliative care, and she was admitted to Better Living Hospital. On July 23, 2026, she successfully underwent a biliary drainage procedure at Coptic Hospital. However, she remained weak.

On the night of July 24, 2026, at 9:50 p.m., Mum rested peacefully in the presence of the nurses and Dr. Ochieng at Better Living Hospital. With hearts broken by her departure, we remain deeply grateful to the many doctors, nurses, and healthcare professionals who supported Mum throughout her long and difficult journey.

[Special Thanks

Special thanks go to Sister Barbra of Nyaneje Health Centre, Dr. Abwao of Homa Bay Referral Hospital, Dr. Ontomu of Kisii, Dr. Hade of Avenue Hospital, Dr. Lazarus Okumu of Homa Bay, Dr. Hargura of Nairobi South, and most importantly, Dr. Primus Ochieng, whose care gave us hope that Mum would recover. We are grateful to Vera Apondi Odede for her compassion, and Mum's home-based nurse, Dr. Paul Morang'a, for always being there throughout the entire treatment journey. We are grateful to the Calvince Odede family and Felix Osanga family for always being there to entertain Mum, bring hope and joy, and stir her soul through the home visits they made, even when Mum was not sick. Their friendship brought precious moments of warmth during a difficult season. To the Paradise Haven Community in Kamulu, Nairobi, and the South View SDA Church (Kamulu), we cannot thank you enough for standing with Mum and the family. We also extend our special thanks to Erick Oweke, a rare gem whom we can never thank enough for his kindness, support, and dedication throughout Mum's journey. Our special gratitude goes to the Board of Directors at BloomBells Charity, led by Juster Kagendi, together with Amina Nyaga, and Milka Mukami, for being great friends of the family in both good and difficult times. Their friendship went beyond words. They walked with us, helped us, prayed together with us and for us, and stood by the family when we needed strength the most. Their presence during Mum's illness was a beautiful expression of Christian love, compassion, friendship, and solidarity. Special mention to the Samasource Training Team for their love and compassion to mum. The visits and songs that you accorded to mum shall always remain engraved in our hearts.

Yucabeth Anyango Kaudo

We are forever grateful to everyone who stood with Mum and our family during this difficult journey. Every prayer, visit, word of encouragement, act of kindness, and gesture of support gave us strength when the journey became difficult. May God bless you abundantly.

Rest in Peace, Mum

Rest peacefully, Mum. You fought a courageous fight, kept the faith, and finished your earthly journey with dignity. You taught us to pray, to love, to remain united, and above all, never to forget God.

As we commend your soul to the mercy of God, we hold firmly to the Catholic faith you cherished—that death is not the end, but a passage to eternal life. May the angels lead you into Paradise; may the saints welcome you; and may perpetual light shine upon you.

Tributes

Joseph Kaudo Misor (Husband)

You formally joined us on 22/12/1981. For the last 44 years, my life with you was as beautiful as you were. Together, we raised 8 children. Mama was surely the pillar of the family. She was a strong Christian, loved singing and dancing, hardworking, highly socialized in groups and approached issues wholly. Mama Maurine was a dedicated teacher and loved farming. Mama leaves behind a strong legacy strong family ties, unity and educated children. I will surely miss you.

Maureen Akoth Kaudo-Daughter

“Mummy, you’re the heart of our family, the keeper of a million little moments and the architect of countless beautiful memories. Your love has been my anchor, your wisdom my guiding star and your strength my inspiration. Thank you mamana for all the ways, you have shaped my world and filled it with love. Love you mamana.”

Steve Kaudo-Son

Raising eight children without formal employment, health insurance, or financial security, in a small, leaking, grass-thatched house, was more than hardship—it was a miracle. Mama never needed wealth to make us rich in life. She fed us when she had little, sought treatment for us when she had no safety net, and refused to let poverty define our dreams. Beneath that fragile roof lived a woman who saw beyond her circumstances and believed in what her children could become. She gave us what life had denied her. We eventually outgrew that house, but never its lessons. Mama was our shelter before we understood what protection meant. While we grew, dreamed, and became, she quietly gave pieces of herself away. Mama, you came from almost nothing, yet gave us everything. You had little, yet made us feel enough. You did not merely raise eight children—you gave us the opportunity to live our dreams. Today, through tears and gratitude, we know the truth: you spent your life giving us ours.

Vincent Kaudo (Son)

Writing this tribute is difficult because accepting that Mum is gone remains painful. Her final seven months were a journey none of us could have imagined. After being diagnosed with Stage IV cancer, Mum made it clear that she wanted to live. She endured painful procedures, hospital admissions, and six difficult chemotherapy sessions, facing each challenge with remarkable courage and determination. We watched her endure pain and weakness, yet she never gave up. We sought medical help and pursued every reasonable opportunity to save her. We tried, the doctors tried, the nurses tried, and above all, Mum fought. We are proud of her strength and resilience. Her illness also revealed an extraordinary circle of love. Her children, siblings, relatives, friends, and medical professionals stood together, offering care, prayers, financial support, encouragement, and hope. To everyone who walked this difficult journey with Mum and our family, may God bless you abundantly. Mum, we fought for you because you wanted to live and because we were not ready to lose you. Though we could not defeat the cancer, you never fought alone. Your pain is now over. Rest peacefully, Mama Yucabeth. Rest well, Min Maureen. You will forever remain in our hearts.

Isdore Kaudo (Son)

Thanks a lot for being a loving mum. You were the sweetest and the most beautiful soul that I ever interacted with. You called me your sister and I took it easy. Ours was a bond that was so deep. Since 2022, life has been unbearable because you have been unwell. This year has been our worst. Seeing you go through all that pain has made my life so pained. I release you mum. I know you are peaceful wherever you are. I am so much proud to be your son because of the woman you were.

Emma Kaudo (Daughter)

My best friend, my super mama, my teacher, my counsellor, my salonist, my adviser and storyteller—the beautiful soul God gave me. I will forever

Yucabeth Anyango Kaudo

carry you in my heart. I will never forget your sacrifices, your struggles, and the love with which you raised us. Your love for the shamba—the cassava, potatoes, groundnuts, mangoes and pineapples—will forever live in our memories. You left us too soon when we didn't expect but your light remains. We shall keep your candle burning. I love you, Mama. Rest peacefully, Jaber mama maurine I will dearly miss you. You were a fighter and you fought well. (Nyapiyo)

Basil Kaudo (Son)

Mum, you are gone, and accepting this remains the saddest reality I have ever faced. Yet, I find comfort in knowing that your love, sacrifices and legacy will forever live on in us. We shared many struggles and difficult moments, and through them, you taught me resilience, courage and the importance of family. Beyond our family, you touched the lives of many young people. You welcomed those who needed a home, giving them support, care and an opportunity to continue their education and pursue better futures. Your generosity and compassion changed many lives. You stood by me during some of my most difficult moments, especially when illness threatened my future. I will never forget how you walked with me to hospitals and patiently waited for hours to ensure I received care. Your love was constant and unconditional. You also lovingly cared for our young angel, Britney. You became her Mum, ensuring she was safe, loved and well cared for, including attending her medical appointments. Though we never imagined life without you, I remain deeply grateful for every sacrifice, lesson and moment of love. Rest peacefully, Mum. May God grant you eternal rest and perpetual light. Your love, sacrifices and legacy will remain with us forever. Amen.

Philip Kaudo-Son

Today, I am heartbroken, and the pain feels deeper than that fateful day, 24th July 2026. I have come to accept that you have taken your eternal rest. Mama was generous, wise, talented, selfless, a fighter, and a woman who loved unconditionally. She loved dancing, singing, humour, and celebrating our achievements. She was also a prayer warrior who constantly placed us in God's hands through every stage of our lives. Your words, "Aphilo, blood is thick, but always remain strong," and "I will be well," continue to comfort me. There was strength in your softness, wisdom in your silence, comfort in your smile, and lasting impact in your voice. Together with Dad, you shepherded our family and touched the wider community. We remain eternally grateful for your sacrifices, love, guidance, and prayers. As you rest, we commit ourselves to keeping your legacy alive—unity, academic excellence, hard work, celebrating one another's victories, and remaining prayerful. We will struggle to keep the home quiet without you. This is not how it ought to end. Rest well, Mamana.

Meldon Ketty (Daughter)

Mum, I still find it hard to believe that you are no longer here. You were a very strict mother, and growing up, I did so many things the way you wanted me to. But, as I grew older, I started understanding you differently. Your rules shaped me and although I may not have understood all of them when I was younger, I now realize that so much of it came from love, protection, and wanting the best for me. I feel like I had finally reached the stage where we could talk like two adults. I had started opening up to you, asking you things, telling you things, and feeling free around you. Sometimes I think maybe you went to sleep feeling like I didn't need you that much anymore, but the truth is, Mum, I need you now more than you ever knew. I had so many things I still wanted to ask you, so many things that I wanted my mum to guide me through. I wish we had more time, but I will forever be grateful for the love, lessons, strength, and memories you gave me. You will always be my mother, and you will always have a special place in my heart. I love you and I will carry you with me for the rest of my life.

Dona Misori-Daughter in Law

When I joined this family, Mama welcomed me with a heart overflowing with love. In her, I found not just a mother, but warmth, care, and a home. What a beautiful soul you were. I remain deeply grateful that I had the privilege of meeting you, even as life denied me the chance to meet Min Jane—a woman everyone I have met believes I would have loved to know. Mama, your love will forever remain a tender imprint on my heart.

Lilian Salisi (Mama Britney)

“I remember the day I first came to your home, you prepared a feast. What mother in law does that?. When my young family needed foundation, you held and supported us. You said, ‘my daughter I will hold you, go make your dreams come true’. You cared and loved for our Britney so I could continue my studies. This is the greatest gift anyone could ever give me. Your kindness and selflessness changed me. The daily calls you made to me just to make my heart peaceful, your encouraging words and love. All that I shall cherish. I am blessed that our paths crossed in this lifetime. Rest in peace mama.”

Beatrice Omondi (Mrs. Vin K)

You were more than a mother-in-law to me; you were a mother, a source of love, warmth, and kindness. I will always be grateful for the way you welcomed me into your heart and treated me as your own. Your motherly love, gentle spirit, and the beautiful memories we shared will forever remain in my heart. Though it hurts to say goodbye, I find comfort in knowing how blessed I was to have you in my life. Rest peacefully, Mum. You were deeply loved, and you will be dearly missed. Your love will remain with us always. ❤️😭

Leshar Kisera (Daughter in Law)

Today I remember and celebrate the life of my beloved mother in law. From the moment I came into your family you welcomed me into your home with open arms and a loving heart. It hurts deeply to know that you are no longer with us, but I am grateful for every moment, every smile and every act of love you shared with me. Your memory will forever remain in my heart. Rest in peace mama.

Leon Joseph (Grandson)

Madhe, you loved singing, and dancing. You also loved cooking, and would always help us do assignments. You would always buy for us sweets when we were walking together in Kamulu. I will really miss you.

Candy Maggy (Grand-daughter)

Madhe loved singing and dancing for us. She made my hair well. Every Sunday, we went to church. She was kind. Please pray for her wherever she is.

Baxton Odhiambo

“It is sad to say you’re no more, you were not just a mother figure to me but you woken the motherly love I missed for over two decades, you took me like you’re our, the only mother who knew that I needed the care, Rest well Minwa! I will surely miss you.”

Min Vicky

When I think of you missing in our family, my heart fades, I feel distressed and loneliness that no one may understand. When I came to Misoris family, you took over as my mother, you tough me things I didn’t know in life and you became the mother of my children, now I’m left alone with no one to share with, may the Lord rest your soul in eternal peace, Amen.

Min Nancy

Mama Eucabeth was my older sister in law. We stayed together and she loved and protected us. She taught me how to live in a new family more so family tree. I have learned the great lesson of family discipline, responsibility and love. She is an educator, great artist and a pious Christian. Rest Easy Nyathiwa.

Nancy Misor

To many, Min Maurine was an aunt, but to us, she was the true heartbeat of our home. She held the fort by ensuring dala was warm, welcoming, and vibrant. The holidays will not be the same without her welcoming smile and kindness. Her spirit gave us a sense of community and family. We thank God for the years she gave us and the community she helped build. Though we will miss her deeply, the warmth she brought to dala will never be forgotten. Sleep well, Auntie."

Esther Alaka

When I think of Nyieka I think of someone who stood by her people...and that is what hurts me most that you will always be absent when I need someone to stand by me. You were always present when we needed comfort and when celebrating little achievements but now you're gone. Heaven has gained 🥹. Till resurrection day Nyieka!

Min Boss (Terry Okumu)

I knew you would go to Nairobi and come back healthy. However, I am saddened that you did not come back as expected. I remember when I was sick and you kept checking on me. We have been relating so close, from Miyuga women group to the several community initiatives that we ran together. I release you to rest in peace.

Elizabeth Akongo (Min Night)

I thank God for your life and for being my friend. You will always remain in my heart as the evangelist, farmer, salonist, artist, and teacher that you were. You were a strong and hardworking Daughter of Mary, the Mother of Jesus. Rest in peace, my good friend.

Ambrose Opere

Mama was my best friend. She regularly called me Wuonwa or Chogo. She was my mentor, parent, teacher and counselor encouraged me to be apolitical. She has left me with a big wealth word of God, animals, and teaching as profession. Thanks very much. I will keep to your legacy~ taking children to school to learn. Rip osiepa kendo first born.

Samasource Team

Our memories of Mum will always take us back to Mawego, where we visited her to celebrate her retirement. She welcomed us with warmth, love and hospitality, ensuring we were well fed and comfortable. When we were leaving, she asked us to stay because she wanted to slaughter a goat for us. Though we had to return to work, her gesture showed her generosity and selflessness. When she became unwell, we visited her at Kaudo's place. Despite her illness, she was happy to see us. We prayed and sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," her favourite song. Mum, your love and kindness will forever remain in our hearts. Rest peacefully.

Mama Linet Onyango (Min Omondi)

We started our journey in 1983. We were all from West Karachuonyo where she is my aunt but in Kamae I am her grandmother. We also belong to the same clan and also church. We both became members of the same Christian community, and choir. We also joined the Legion Maria and prayed together and spiritually encouraged each other. We were the best friends. We would attend night vigils together and would always support each other. Rest in peace Yawa.

Tributes from sisters

Your life was a blessing, your presence a gift and your love a treasure we will hold forever. You brought light into our lives in ways only a sister can—through understanding, shared laughter, and unwavering support. You walked this journey with grace and quiet strength, always thinking of others before yourself. Your compassion, warmth and gentle spirit shaped our bond and enriched our lives beyond measure. Though we grieve your absence, we celebrate the love you gave and the memories we shared. You live on in our hearts, in our stories, and in the unbreakable bond that time can never erase. Rest in peace, nyathiwa

Paul Morang'a

A loving Mother. A woman of faith. A fighter. I was honored to care for her during her illness. Her strength, prayers, and smile will never be forgotten.

“God will wipe away every tear
from people’s eyes.
There will be no
more death, sorrow,
crying, or pain.
The old ways of suffering are gone forever.”
